

UN's 17 Genocidal Development Goals are the Driving Force Behind Child Sex Trafficking

The Global War on Children

Elizabeth Yore, a child protection attorney and investigative specialist, has identified what she characterizes as a coordinated global war on children. During the Rome Life Forum, she presented evidence that elite globalist entities are engaged in the systemic exploitation, trafficking, and sexualization of minors. According to Yore, these influential actors are working in lockstep to dismantle the natural family, obliterate innocence, and promote a modern form of slavery. This agenda reportedly involves the radical commodification of children for various purposes, ranging from illegal adoption and surrogacy to more sinister forms of medical experimentation and body part harvesting.

The Mechanics of Human Trafficking and Global Influence

Human trafficking has evolved into the second most profitable criminal enterprise in the United States. While slavery is an ancient institution, it is currently flourishing at unprecedented levels due to institutional cover and globalist agendas. Data from the International Labour Organisation suggests that nearly 50 million people are trafficked globally, with the average age of entry into sex trafficking falling between 12 and 14 years old. In the United States, minors account for approximately 50% of all detected trafficking victims.

Yore describes a complex network of "purveyors" that includes high-society elites, corporate boardrooms, and transnational criminal cartels such as MS-13 and Tren de Aragua. She specifically identifies George Soros as a central figure in this movement, likening his influence to a "demonic octopus" that uses the United Nations (UN) to execute a plan for global destabilization. This plan is allegedly implemented through a network of 240 non-governmental organizations (NGOs) and religious charities that facilitate illegal migration under the guise of human rights.

The Vatican and the Shift in Moral Leadership

Yore expressed profound concern regarding a perceived radical shift within the leadership of the Catholic Church under the current papacy. Attending a 2013 Vatican conference on human trafficking, she expected to find moral leadership but instead found the institution promoting UN Agenda 2030 and the 17 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). She alleges that the Vatican is participating in a cover-up by using climate change rhetoric as a "stalking horse" to deflect from the true causes of trafficking.

Furthermore, Yore argues that the Holy See has effectively transferred its moral authority to unelected globalist bodies such as the World Economic Forum (WEF) and the World Health Organization (WHO). She claims that by supporting lockdowns and facilitating mass migration, the Church has abandoned its duty to protect vulnerable women and children, allowing them to be traded away to "diabolical overlords".

Unmasking the Sustainable Development Goals

While the UN frames its 17 SDGs as a roadmap for a global utopia, Yore labels them "genocidal development goals". She contends that beneath promises of ending poverty lies an agenda to eradicate nation-states, eliminate private property, and destroy the family unit. Key components of these goals allegedly include:

- Radical Sexualization: The promotion of homosexual education in kindergartens and the normalization of "sexual partners" for small children.
- Technocratic Control: The mandate of multiple vaccines, the implementation of digital IDs, and the creation of a Chinese-style social credit system.
- A One-World Government: The erosion of cultural, religious, and legal identities to impose a totalitarian, unaccountable global authority.

Mass Migration as a Tool for Civilization Collapse

Yore asserts that the UN and the Vatican utilize the "climate crisis hoax" to justify the rapid mass migration of millions into Europe and the United States. This migration is described not as a spontaneous humanitarian event, but as a coordinated operation designed to topple Christian civilizations. In Europe, this unrestrained influx has allegedly resulted in soaring rates of sexual crime and the physical destruction of cultural landmarks like cathedrals.

The U.S. Border Crisis and NGO Complicity

The U.S. southern border is described as a "predator's paradise". Between 2021 and 2024, an estimated 452,000 unaccompanied minor children were lost or reported missing within the United States. These children, often arriving without identification or guardians, are frequently delivered by cartels whose smuggling revenue has skyrocketed from $500 million in 2018 to $13 billion in 2022.

Yore levels significant criticism against Catholic Charities and other NGOs for their role in this "dump and run" operation. Despite receiving billions in federal taxpayer dollars, these organizations reportedly failed to conduct DNA testing, background checks, or follow-up home inspections for sponsors. Whistleblowers have revealed that children are often placed with unvetted individuals within 14 days, leading to widespread exploitation in child pornography and drug trafficking.

A Call for Public Action

Despite the gravity of these findings, Yore maintains that the public is beginning to recognize these "satanic games". She emphasizes that because the United States is one of the world's largest consumers of human trafficking, the demand for this market must be addressed. She calls for pro-life voices to flood the public square and save children from exploitation. Her presentation concluded with a firm rejection of globalist control, stating that the public vastly outnumbers these elite actors and must work to reclaim the "keys to the kingdom".

The system described functions like a hollowed-out lighthouse: from a distance, it appears to provide guidance and safety for the vulnerable, but inside, the light has been replaced by a predator's trap, using the very structure of protection to lure victims into the dark.
